Sponsorship Prospectus

Join us at DevOpsDays Melbourne 2022

DevOps Australia is delighted to offer the opportunity to become a sponsor for DevOpsDays Melbourne 2022, Australia's DevOps conference. With over 200 delegates expected, this two day, multidisciplinary conference brings together passionate practitioners, providing the opportunity for your company to promote your products, services and brand to a wide range of delegates.

Building on the success of previous year's events, the conference will be held at the Art Center Melbourne.

As a sponsor you can expect to network with:

- Technologists
- Technical Managers
- Infrastructure Managers
- Developers
- Industry experts

Key Dates

Marketing commences: November 2022

Call for papers: November 2021

Speakers announced: February 2021

Conference dates: Thursday, 17th March - Friday, 18th March 2022

Key reasons to sponsor with us:

- Increase exposure to a diverse industry
- Demonstrate your organisation's alignment and support of DevOps
- Promote your company to delegates
- Build brand profile and awareness in within the industry
- Network and build new relationships with key industry figures

Marketing and communications strategy

Our marketing and communications plan will create awareness by combining and integrating the following aspects:

- The official DevOpsDays website promotes the event, providing delegate information and sponsor acknowledgement, including direct links and branding for sponsors.
- Direct event emails circulated to 500 members and past attendees including program and sponsor details. (Google group/meetups groups)
- eMarketing with communication to registered attendees to update conference information.
- Twitter and LinkedIn will be used to create interest and excitement around the speakers and events.

Program Highlights

From the best minds in the field, this highly interactive educational event will include a program of guest speakers, panel discussions and open spaces. Valuable insights into future trends, developments and new technology, products and services as well as practical advice on issues that matter most will be gained.

Sponsor Opportunities

DevOpsDays are community-focused, self-organising conferences for DevOps practitioners that depend on sponsor support. However, because of the nature of the event, we do not have large vendor booths or book product pitches. Attendees, including sponsors, will have the opportunity to host a 5 minute product demo as part of an open space session during the program.

Gold sponsors get a table they can use for technical and promotional material for interested people to come visit during breaks. All attendees, including sponsors, are welcome to propose any subject they want during the open spaces, however this is a community focused conference and heavy marketing will probably work against you when trying to make a good impression on the attendees. The best thing to do is send engineers, managers etc. to interact with the community at DevOpsDays on their own terms.

Payments via credit card or bank transfer are available.
